
2ndDutch - Japanese Workshop in Philosophy of Technology

Location:

February 26-27: Shiinoki Cultural Complex, seminar room A

<http://www.shiinoki-geihinkan.jp/pdf/2014english.pdf>

February 29: Rikkyo University Bldg. No. 6, 6205

<http://english.rikkyo.ac.jp/access/ikebukuro/direction/>

<http://english.rikkyo.ac.jp/access/ikebukuro/campusmap/>

Friday February 26, 2016

- 10.00 – 10.15 opening (Peter-Paul Verbeek and Kojiro Honda/Hidekazu Kanemitsu)
- 10.15 – 11.00 Peter-Paul Verbeek (University of Twente)
Sapiens ex machina: towards an anthropology of human-robot relations
- 11.00 – 11.45 Tetsuya Kono (Rikkyo University)
Neuroscience and Technology of mind
- 11.45 – 12.30 Melis Bas (University of Twente)
Expanding political philosophy of Technology: An Arendtian Approach
- 12.30 – 13.30 lunch
- 13.30 – 14.15 Toshihiro Suzuki (Sophia University)
Tools and skilled expertise
- 14.15 – 15.00 Olga Kudina (University of Twente)
Engaging with privacy “body multiple”: The cases of Google Glass and Microsoft HoloLens
- 15.00 – 15.30 break
- 15.30 – 16.15 Hidekazu Kanemitsu (Kanazawa Institute of Technology)
Technological mediation and ethics of technology
- 16.15 – 17.00 Bas de Boer (University of Twente)
Scientific Observation: A Mediation Perspective

This research is supported by following JSPS KAKENHI:

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (A), Tetsuya Kono, Rikkyo University (24242001)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Kiyotaka Naoe, Tohoku University (25350376)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Hidekazu Kanemitsu, Kanazawa Institute of Technology (25370032)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Kojiro Honda, Kanazawa Medical University (25370033)

Saturday February 27, 2016

- 9.00 – 9.45 Kojiro HONDA (Kanazawa Medical University)
TBA
- 9.45 – 10.30 Jochem Zwier (Radboud University Nijmegen)
TBA
- 10.30 – 11.00 break
- 11.00 – 11.45 Shinya Oie (Kobe University)
Political Dimensions of Technological Mediation: Analysis and Development
- 11.45 – 12.30 Ching Hung (University of Twente)
Psychologist B.F. Skinner's philosophy of technology and its implication for technological mediation theory
- 12.30 – 13.30 lunch
- 13.30 – 14.15 Yosuke Taniuchi (University of Tokyo)
Tools without designer's intention
- 14.15 – 15.00 Jonne Hoek (University of Twente)
How technologies evoke limit-situations to appear; Karl Jaspers' demons revisited
- 15.00 – 15.30 break
- 15.30 – 16.15 Nicola Liberati (Chukyo University/JSPS)
Being Riajuu [リア充] and the new computer technologies
- 16.15 – 17.00 Kiyotaka Naoe (Tohoku University)
Responsibility to Nature

Monday February 29, 2016

- 14.00 – 16:00 Round Table on Philosophy of Technology in Netherlands and Japan
This round table is aimed at follow-up the workshop and examination of next workshop.
We also welcome the person except speakers of the workshop.
*Please note that this round table will be held at Rikkyo University in Tokyo.

This research is supported by following JSPS KAKENHI:

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (A), Tetsuya Kono, Rikkyo University (24242001)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Kiyotaka Naoe, Tohoku University (25350376)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Hidekazu Kanemitsu, Kanazawa Institute of Technology (25370032)

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (C), Kojiro Honda, Kanazawa Medical University (25370033)